The TMHA Alamo Chapter is hosting a "Night at the Races" Thursday, Oct. 29.

San Antonio's Retama Park hosts live thoroughbred horse racing, and we have reserved the Terrace Dining Room. This premier seating is multi-tiered with tables that overlook the racetrack at the finish line with individual TVs at each table. Not only will you see the action up close, we will have a Texas-style BBQ buffet including brisket, sausage, corn on the cob, ranch beans, cole slaw and dessert. A cash bar will be set up right in our dining area so no one has to climb up and down stairs to get a drink.

And that's not all: we will also have our own Pari-Mutual wagering station right in our own area, no need to fight the crowds when you go to pick up your winnings!

This is sure to be a memorable evening for all – why not treat your top salesperson, your significant other, your top manager, or your top dealer to a night at the races? You don't have to be a member of TMHA to attend so all your friends and relatives are welcome and encouraged to come. This is a new idea after years of Golf Tournaments and the sort, a new and fun night that everyone can enjoy even if you don't want to wager. So please let's all get involved and try to make this the most successful fundraiser we have ever had!
